PABLO PAEZ

TENNIS PRO

From coaching tiny tots at my local tennis club as a teenager to pursuing competitive Junior Tennis and professional goals, tennis has been a lifelong passion. My journey took me to the IGA Academy in Bradenton, Florida, where I earned my training by coaching kids, adults, and recreational players.

I spent two incredible years playing qualifiers, challengers, and tournaments across the U.S. and abroad, chasing my dreams with determination. After overcoming injuries, I proudly played Division 1 tennis at Temple University (Go Owls!)—an experience that taught me resilience and the value of hard work.

Today, I bring this wealth of experience to the court, helping players of all levels reach their potential. I pride myself on a coaching style that combines patience, personalized attention, and just the right amount of tough love to bring out the best in every aspiring junior and adult enthusiast.

Let's elevate your game together!
