JIM MCGARRY

TENNIS PRO

Jim McGarry has been a tennis teaching professional since 1991, starting with Peter Burwash International (PBI). He earned his USPTA Level 1 (Elite) coaching designation in 1993 and, through 2004, taught over 10,000 students across 10 countries. Jim led programs in Canada, Qatar, Puerto Rico, and the Caribbean, where he was regional director of operations. A career highlight was coaching Team El Salvador to victory over Mexico in the 1994 Federation Cup Qualifying Round in Puerto Rico.

In the U.S., Jim was Head Professional and Director of Tennis at Walt Disney World Resort (1997-2004) and Director of Tennis and Operations at the Punta Gorda Club (2004-2008), managing the facility's post-Hurricane Charley rebuild.

Since 2010, Jim has worked with PlayYourCourt in the DMV area and now the Space Coast. He coached Adhithya Ganesan, ranked #24 globally in Juniors and currently #790 ATP, who plays for the University of Florida and is advancing through Futures with Jim's continued support.

Jim specializes in helping beginner and intermediate players improve while enjoying tennis's fitness and lifestyle benefits. He spends his free time working out, reading, golfing, and with family.
